Describe the most significant challenge you have faced and the steps you have taken to overcome this challenge	I faced switching from an environment I was comfortable in and used to, to another. I had to start fresh. I was exposed to new people, new cultures and a whole new aura. I overcame all of this by working with what I had, and mainly focusing on the positives. In the end, all worked out even better than I planned.
You are required to spend the next year of your life in either the past or the future. What year would you travel and why?	I would live in the mid 20th century. I feel like people these days, depend on so much, even things that aren't even worth depending on. People used to work for their status and for their needs. Whereas now, people see the smallest task as a huge chore. I wish to live in a society where people look for a little more than just material.
What would you say is your greatest talent or skill? how have you developed and demonstrated that talent over time	One of my greatest talents would probably be, being an attentive writer/ reader. I pay attention to the smallest details in writing. I have a love of learning new words and putting them together in sentences. I like reading all things such as books, blogs and magazines. Even when watching movies, tv shows and such, I pay close attention to the vocabulary used. My creativity comes with it as I am very creative in many senses.
What have you done to make your school or community a better place	I joined 'Injaz', and a small organization called 'Be The Change'. I did so, because I actually wanted to see change in my school by making it a healthier environment for the students and everyone else involved in school. I wanted to help spread a message of awareness, because in the end, school is supposed to prepare you for the real world. With 'Injaz', me and my team created 'Strings', a platform to give people the opportunity to tie it with their ability to volunteer and make our community even greater. We ended up being one of the top 3 companies out of twenty few in the 'Injaz' company competition.
What makes you happy?	I like seeing myself being productive and I like seeing success come with it. There's nothing better than seeing that you've done something great and it all coming out better than you hoped for.
