Describe the most significant challenge you have faced and the steps you have taken to overcome this challenge	I haven't really faced many challenges in my life, but if I were to choose one, it'd be mustering up the courage to walk away from the bad influences in my life. So two years ago, I was befriending people who were basically horrible bullies. They distracted me, annoyed me and made me a horrible person. But late last year, I realized that they are not the best people and I should move away from them. They made my grades drop and made some people dislike me. It took a lot out of me but I finally told them that I do not wish to stay friends with them. At first they didn't accept it, then they started bugging me about it, but I stayed ignoring them, and thankfully they just forgot and moved on.
You are required to spend the next year of your life in either the past or the future. What year would you travel and why?	I would travel into the future. There's no point in trying to change the past, everything happened for a reason and everyone should accept why it happened. I'd travel into the future to see how much humanity has advanced, have we made it to mars yet? Have we discovered what's in the deep depths of the ocean? Have we hit the core yet? Has AI become almost-human? So many things the future has to offer. But if I had a choice between the present and the future, I'd choose the present; nothing is wrong with our generation, no wars, barely any violent conflicts. It's not as bad as before and social media has brought people together making the world a much smaller place, which I think is good.
What would you say is your greatest talent or skill? how have you developed and demonstrated that talent over time	I'd choose between writing or drawing. I've always loved drawing and was drawing ever since I was a kid. I am generally okay at it but am not the best hah. Some people compliment me now and then. My writing skills are okay I think but I don't really show it off to people and just write to myself since I like to create random stories inspired from the books I read.
What have you done to make your school or community a better place	Nothing much, I try to lighten up the negative mood with jokes and sometimes give advice to my friends, other than that I don't do much. I guess I pay attention in class but that doesn't really help anyone.
What makes you happy?	What makes me happy?
	I guess making other people happy or smile.
How did you hear about The Proteges program	Social media
