| Describe the most significant challenge you have faced and the steps you have taken to overcome this challenge | Venturing into the real world of choice and decision and deciding who I want to be and how to get there. Simply by changing to the major of my choice and not listening to others (ie. family, friends, society.) And that was a big step because I was letting go of my scholarship forever and changed universities. There were many obstacles and the path was rough and there are still challenges even though I already switched. |
| You are required to spend the next year of your life in either the past or the future. What year would you travel and why? | The future. I wouldn't choose the past because losers still pine over the past. I would choose the future because I would want to know what things I have achieved and what new goals I have set and who, if any of the people in my life, are still in my life. |
| What would you say is your greatest talent or skill? how have you developed and demonstrated that talent over time | My greatest skill is my never-ending curiosity and my perpetual jog to the next thing I could learn. I view it as my armor and my weapon. Also, I think I could talk anyone into doing anything. |
| What have you done to make your school or community a better place | As a 19 year old, I am a disappointment. But I hope to change that. I've already signed up to help build and redecorate old homes. I try to educate and better myself and the people around me whenever I got the chance. I volunteered in the Nuqat Two-day forum. |
| What makes you happy? | Unexpected kind acts. Simply waking up each morning and realizing that God has given me another chance. Puppies, horses and the feeling of achievement. Also Reese's peanut butter chocolate. |
